FROM THE DESK OF THE PASTOR

The Lord be with you! Before we move away from the Counter Reformation, we need to account for its spiritual element. In the person of St. Ignatius of Loyola, we have an exemplary man who deliberately chose God over nation and honor.

Born the youngest son of thirteen children, Ignatius initially set out as a soldier. His family had been minor nobility and through their connections and his industry became at first a page and soon a direct subordinate to the Viceroy of Navarre. After ten years in that duke's service, Ignatius was gravely wounded while defending the fortress of Pamplona. So severe was Ignatius's vanity that he had his leg broken...twice to make the bones better.

While recovering from that second surgery, Ignatius experienced a profound religious conversion. Unable to walk around much, he read. He discovered, however, that reading about knights and heroes left him unsatisfied afterwards but that reading the lives of the saints left him at peace. Ignatius had come to understand how to see his emotions as indicators of his heart and the movement of the Holy Spirit.* This insight not only changed his life but became a founding principle for the Jesuits, but we are skipping ahead of ourselves.

Ignatius then applied himself to mastering his own brokenness and learning theology. The first he did by living like a hermit for a year including living in a cave. The second he accomplished by studying in Barcelona before going to Paris. It was there in 1534 that he and six other "companions" took the vows of life long service that created the Society of Jesus, or Jesuits. The Society received official recognition in 1540 when Pope Paul III accepted their founding rules and Ignatius as the Superior, or "Father General" of the Society. The actual constitution for the order would be approved in 1553, a few years before Ignatius's death. The saint likely died from Malaria in Rome in 1556. By that time the Jesuits had expanded significantly in their scope of work and numbers.

The Jesuits quickly become both a scholarly and missionary force within the Church. By 1541 St. Francis Xavier had already embarked for India and the Far East, and the Jesuits possessed a university in Sicily. These twin works would define the Society for the next few hundred years as their work in letters and proclaiming the Gospel spread throughout Europe and the world.

St. Ignatius had started his adult life wanting to be a hero on the battlefield - an image he would use much in his Spiritual Exercises. In discerning that God wanted him to spread His Glory, Ignatius represents well the renewal and vigor of the Counter Reformation Church. The Jesuits attracted many men to their ranks and educated many more because they shared with their founder a dedication to what the eye could not see. Next week we turn to an area the early Jesuit missionaries did tremendous work in: the Americas. May we always seek the Greater Glory of God (ADMG).

In His Sacred Heart,
Fr. John

LATIN AMERICA COLLECTION

This weekend we take up the Collection for the Church in Latin America! Many people in Latin America and the Caribbean lack access to church programs and ministries because of a rising secular culture, rugged rural terrain, and a shortage of ministers. Your generosity enables our brothers and sisters in Latin America and the Caribbean to share in the life of the Church and grow closer to Christ. Please be generous in the special collection! ST. THOMAS MORE SCHOOL

Second Grade Super Stars - Second grade has had a productive and fun-filled fall. We spent time preparing and celebrating Halloween, Thanksgiving, Advent, and Christmas. Fun was had by all at the PTU Boo Bingo and Halloween Parade where the children proudly showed off their Halloween costumes. In November, we felt blessed to collect food for our community, helping others during the season of giving. Advent was a meaningful time for us. We learned about the four candles on the Advent wreath, the significance of the color purple as a reminder of the seriousness of waiting for Jesus, and the Jesse tree's special meaning. After Christmas break, we continued celebrating the Christmas season by discussing the Epiphany, reflecting on our gifts for the Christ child, and creating gold, purple, and green crowns to wear to commemorate this day.

In class, we explored many new topics and skills. In religion, we learned all about what the Ten Commandments mean to us as second graders. We are especially excited to begin preparing for the Sacrament of Reconciliation. In Social Studies, we learned about the cardinal directions. In Science, we studied motion and magnetism. Math class has been busy with lessons on subtracting two-digit numbers and understanding two step word problems.

A special highlight has been our Mystery Reader! The children have enjoyed being surprised by their parents and loved ones who came to share wonderful stories. It's always a treat to involve our families while enjoying a great book together!
